2 PETER 1:1-14

NEXT 2:1-22

2nd Pt. 1:1 Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ,— Peter had heard and answered God's call. God did not override Peter's will. He was called to be a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ. He was not called to occupy a position of authority or to be honored by men but to serve and minister to them. He lets his readers know that he is a servant. The word "servant" (doulos) means far more than just a servant. It means a slave totally possessed by the master is a "bond-servant" by law to a master. That means a servant:

- is owned by his master
- exists for his master
- serves his master
- his will belonged to his master

Peter was sold-out for Christ, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ. The word "apostle" (apostolos) means either a person who is sent out or a person who is sent forth; a representative, an ambassador, a person who is sent out into one country to represent another country. Three things are true of the Apostle Peter:

1. He belongs to the "One" who has sent him out.
2. He is commissioned to be sent out.
3. He possesses all the authority and power of the One who has sent him out.

This says one thing: Peter thought that Jesus Christ was worth total devotion.

2nd Pt. 1:1b ...to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:— Peter is writing to those who share in the same valuable faith; equal privilege before God that he has. This faith in the righteousness of God and Savior Jesus Christ is obtained not earned; no one can work for it, it is a gift. This faith comes through the righteousness of Christ, and that means:

1. Jesus is the righteous Man who can stand for and cover all men.
2. Jesus bore the sins of men and died for them. This was acceptable to God because He was the Perfect Man without sin.

We therefore stand before God as righteous because He counts us righteous by the death of Christ; free of sin. God only sees Christ! Peter's aim is to stabilize the Christians; combat and warn the church against false teachers and false doctrine that caused believers to doubt and turn away from Christianity.

2nd Pt. 1: 2 Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,— Peter greets those who share in the same faith with their customary greeting of grace and peace. And he says may it be multiplied; increased through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord. Everything is through God and Jesus Christ. Peter being an apostle; a representative sent under the shepherding of God and Jesus Christ wants them to have an increase of undeserved favor and confident calmness in God's love. The biblical order is always grace and then peace.

- "Grace" (charis) – the undeserved favor and blessings of God.

God gives an abundance of grace and peace, causing overflow, without lack. How can a person be always overflowing with the grace and peace of God? - Through the true knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord. We have to know God in order to receive the grace and peace of God. And we have to know Jesus in order to receive grace and peace. What does it mean to know?

- "Peace" (eirene) –means an inner confident calmness and rest in the love and care of God.

The believer's "peace" in one sense is independent of our circumstances because it is a divine "fruit" brought forth in a life yielded to the control of the Holy Spirit. The better we know Jesus, the more we experience grace and peace. Peace does not mean the absence of pain or absence of conflict or absence of testing times. But divine peace, the peace that the Spirit gives, does mean that in our pain, in our conflicts, in our testing times, we can have genuine inner peace (our soul at "rest").

- "Knowledge" (epignosei) means full, personal, precise, and correct knowledge.

You gain the knowledge of God and Jesus through the Spirit, who dwells in you, and brings to your remembrance everything that God has said in His Word. He interprets and explains the spiritual truth of Jesus, giving you the true knowledge of Him. Man deserves nothing from God except judgment, condemnation, and punishment. Peter lets them know that grace and peace will come through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord.

2nd Pt. 1:3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:— Peter says, divine power has been granted to us; freely given. Who is "us"? The "us" is not just anyone. It's only to those who embrace God's Son. Not everyone is a child of God. When you are born into the family of God by faith in Christ, you are born complete and God has given us everything we need for this life and for godliness. It is through an intimate knowledge of God (relationship) who has called us by His own glory and excellence.

- "All things that pertain unto life" mean a godly life; our eternal life, and our present life. Life comes from the One who has the power to stop the process of death and to deliver us from death. No man has such power. God longs for man to live, to have abundance of life; therefore He gives all things that will make a person overflow with life.
- "Godliness" (euseberian) means living like God; Christ-like; to live in the reverence and awe of God; to be conscious of God's presence, that one lives just as God would live, as if He were walking upon the earth; live seeking to be like God; seek to possess the very character, nature, and behavior of God.

2nd Pt. 1:4 Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust. These promises are great because they come from a great God and they lead to a great life. They are precious because of their value is beyond calculation.

1. <sup>1</sup>He not only provides for our redemption, but for our eternal redemption (Hebrews 9:12).
2. He not only gives us life, but the promise of life to the full (John 10:10).
3. He not only gives us His joy, but joy that is complete (John 15:11). Compare 1 Peter 1:8.
4. He not only gives us peace, but the promise of perfect peace (Isaiah 26:3). Compare Philippians 4:7.
5. He not only promises His forgiveness, but He will remember our sins no more (Jeremiah 31:34).
6. He not only guarantees heaven, but He promises heaven with Him (John 14:2-3 and 1 Thessalonians 4:17).

7. He not only offers us His grace, but He promises that it will be sufficient for every need (2 Corinthians 12:9).

Why did God give "these exceeding great and precious and magnificent promises"? He gave them in order that by them, "you might become partakers of His divine nature." God places within the heart of the believer His own divine nature and makes him a new creature and a new man in Christ. Then, having become partakers of the "divine nature," one who has been born again enters the spiritual state of communion with God and fellowship with Christ. "...having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust" mean all who come to Christ and are in Him have escaped from sin and corruption. How can we survive in a corrupt world and remain faithful to our wonderful Lord? We must rely on Christ's divine power; and we must rely on Christ's divine nature. Paul summed it all up when he wrote in (Gal. 2:20), "I have been crucified with Christ and it is no longer I who live but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by faith in the Son of God who loved me and delivered Himself up for me." We have become a partaker; a partner of God's promises and accepting His divine nature.

2nd Pt. 1:5 And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge;— As Peter continued, for this very reason— in addition to what God has already given them, Peter covers seven great qualities and virtues which are a progressive list to be in the life of the believer. If you miss any of those steps, you will not be able to get to the next place on the list. And that's why Peter says "applying all diligence, add to your faith." The word "add" (epichoregein) means to give lavishly and generously. In other words, he's telling and charging them: "give all diligence" (hasten, jump, act now, don't wait, be energetic and earnest, and strenuously work) to add these things to your faith as you progress and mature.

The starting point is Faith—You had to come to Jesus Christ by faith—that unseen part where you trusted and believed. This is the dynamic catalyst that will result in good works and spiritual maturity that will minister fruitfulness. Now begin to add:

1. Virtue (aretēn) which is moral excellence, goodness of character, moral strength and moral courage. It means always choosing the excellent way.
2. Knowledge (gnōsin) which is practical intelligence, practical insight; that which enables a man to know what to do in every situation and do it according to the Will of God.

Faith is developed by hearing and hearing by the Word of God. By us adding to our faith, virtue, we fulfill moral excellence and goodness of character; then adding knowledge, we do it according to the Will of God because we are successfully growing.

2nd Pt. 1:6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;—

3. Temperance (egkrateian) which is master and control of the body or the appetites of the flesh; self-control. You begin to take control of self and prevail against the lusts that rise up. "He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down and without walls" Prov.25:28. Know that self-control is of God, a fruit of the Holy Spirit.
4. Patience (hupomonein) which is translated endurance, fortitude, steadfastness, constancy, and perseverance. With this fruit, this is the ability to endure when circumstances are difficult.
5. Godliness (eusebeian) which means to live in devoutness, piety, and devotion to God. This helps a person live above petty things because of one's devotion to God.

PITWM VERSE BY VERSE

Temperance handles the pleasures of life; patience handles the pressures and problems of life. The person who gives in to pleasures is not disciplined enough to handle pressures, and so gives up. Godliness does what is right because it is the Will of God and therefore doing what is right in the welfare of others.

2nd Pt. 1:7 And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.

6. Brotherly kindness (philadelphian) which is a love between brothers and sisters. The word used for love is phileo which means deep-seated affection and care, deep and warm feelings, holding near and dear within the heart. This enables us to be loyal and kind to the other members of God's family.

7. Love (agape) goes beyond just our fellow believers. It is for the entire world. Loves regardless of feelings; sacrificial love. This love enables us to want nothing in return.

When we have brotherly love, we love because of our likeness to others, but with agape love, we love in spite of the differences we have. These seven virtues stem first from faith and ends with love.

2nd Pt. 1:8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. "These things" mean the seven virtues or qualities. The word "abound" (pleonazonta) means to increase and grow, to overflow and be filled with more and more, ever learning. As we increase in these virtues, we will not be idle and slothful or unproductive or unfruitful in knowing what to do in situations of our lives. We must learn to keep our minds on Christ Jesus. In other words, do not be satisfied with your present growth; with staying where you are, adding one step, but keep abounding in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ. Christians must develop these qualities, and by doing so, they will know Christ better. If these things be in us, we are full of Christ.

2nd Pt. 1:9 But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins. And if these virtues are not in us, and we are without Christ we are blind; unable to discern our true spiritual condition. This verse is the opposite of abounding in verse 8. When you lack any of these things (virtues), it makes you blind and shortsighted. It makes you forget that you have been cleansed from your sins. This person's lack of fruit could exist because a person's cleansing was merely an external reformation that did not come from a truly changed heart or one who has fallen into serious error regarding the Christian life and becomes a backslider. Unfortunately, you can also go backwards. You can forget being purged from old sins and regress. Some people had godliness at one time, but sin caused them to abandon it. Many exercised self-control for a time, but then gave up on it. A person is either moving ahead in Christ or either he is sliding back from Christ.

2nd Pt. 1:10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:— Peter wants to rouse the complacent believer. Rather than staying blind in verse 9, Peter urges his readers to make "sure" (confirm and secure) their calling and election, in making their salvation sure for their own mind sake; having no lingering doubts. Christians should diligently pursue; work at and confirm that their calling and election is reliable, unshifting and firm; that God has called them to be saved. God has called us by His Word and His Spirit. He has elected us, separated us from the world, through sanctification of the Spirit. In other words, the believer who pursues the spiritual qualities or virtues mentioned in verses 5-7, guarantees to himself, spiritual fruit. By practicing these virtues, we will not fall, meaning into doubt; despair; fear or even fall into apostasy (falling away from the faith) or into perdition (hell). People stumble and come short of the glory of God, but God's calling and election pursues us and will not allow us to fall. Our own efforts in pursuing the Christ-like character, continues to make our calling and election sure. By God's grace we will continue to grow in the virtues; manifesting those fruits. We have to continue on in these things by having undoubted evidence that we are children of God.

2nd Pt. 1:11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. We have to remember what Peter just talked about in verses 5-10, and allow those things to minister to us. Those who practice those qualities will be richly provided with the reward of eternal life. We know that there is one way into heaven and that is through Jesus Christ. And, being in Christ, He and the Spirit of God will minister these qualities and we will diligently confirm our calling and election, and thereby will be richly and gloriously welcomed into heaven.

2nd Pt. 1:12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth. The readers already knew the true gospel message. However, truth always needs repetition because believers forget so easily. Since we share a new nature, and a new quality of life in Christ, Peter is always going to preach, teach, repeat, and remind them of the importance of these things. The letter will always remind them as they read it over and over, though they know it and are established in the experience of the truth.

POINT:

Salvation is to know Christ as the Son of God, who was sent to earth by the Father to save the world. We are not to look upon Christ as a mere man, as a great religious leader who founded the religion of Christianity. A person is to look upon Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. The heart of the person's is to surrender totally to Christ as his Lord and Savior; and comes to know Christ, day by day, experiencing the overflow of the Lord's Grace and Life abundantly. This is the power of Christ—the power to save us from death and give Life and godliness; the power that can stop death and give Life and Peace abundantly.

2nd Pt. 1:13 Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;— Peter thought this was the right thing for him to do—to stir (wake-up from sleep; excite and arouse) believers to be reminded to perform these virtues as long as he lived in "this tabernacle"—the tent of his body (temporary earthly vessel). Therefore, as long as he was in this bodily tent, he would stir them by putting those believers in remembrance to diligently perform their duties.

2nd Pt. 1:14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me. Peter knew his death was at hand as he wrote this letter. Nero's persecution had already begun killing the Christians. And Peter was martyred right after writing this epistle. Tradition says he was crucified upside down, refusing to be crucified like his Lord.

SUMMARY:

This is Peter's second letter. The lesson tells us that God has given us everything we need for spiritual growth. Peter was sold-out for Christ, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ sent forth to those that had obtained; given like precious faith along with other believers through the righteousness of God and our Savior Jesus Christ. Peter greets those who share in the same faith with grace and peace to be multiplied through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord. Peter being an apostle; a representative sent under the shepherding of God and Jesus Christ wants them to have an increase of undeserved favor and confident calmness in God's love. He lets them know that grace and peace will come through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord. Everything we need for life and godliness comes from God. It is through an intimate knowledge of God (that is, relationship) who has called us by His own glory and excellence. Exceeding great and precious promises are given to us that by these we might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust (2nd Pt. 1:1-4).

God equips us while we add to our faith, allowing us to know God better. Believers are called to put forth an effort to grow in God's Word. He tells us that to build our faith, we need to practice all these virtues that Peter lists. All is built on faith – that is, trusting in God's providence when things get tough. We add virtue – courage in the face of adversity; add knowledge – a deeper appreciation of who God is, who we are, and what the difference is; add temperance – self-control; a restraining of our desires and passions to come into line with Scripture; add patience – steadfastness with others who really grind on our nerves; add godliness – an awareness of the presence of God around you; add brotherly kindness, and add love. These are our exercises that we should practice daily; chase after, and pursue, so that we can build upon our faith. If we possess these qualities, we will abound and be fruitful in our Lord Jesus Christ. But, if we don't and we lack these things we become blind because he has forgotten that God delivered him from his old life of sin. Peter tells believers to give diligence; make their calling and election sure; work hard to prove that you really are among those God has called and chosen, then, they you will never stumble or fall. So, if we have doubts and are unsure of our calling and election, God's calling and election pursues us, and will not allow us to fall. These virtues equip us for life worth living which also makes possible the entrance to receive the reward of eternal life. So, those who practice those qualities will be richly provided with the reward of eternal life. Peter says he would continue to tell them over and over again; he would not neglect or be slack to remind them over and over, though they know it and are established in the experience of the truth. He would stir them up by putting them in remembrance of the things he had just spoken of, as long as he's in his earthly body tent. He knew that it would be soon that he was going to put off his earthly tent, that is, be put to death, as he said, just as our Lord Jesus Christ had showed him (2nd Pt. 1:1-14).

APPLICATION:

Add to your faith while praying, while reading; and it will come to pass.

SYNOPSIS:

<sup>2</sup>One of the themes of Peter's second epistle is "beware of false teachers", and such is the focus of the second chapter. Just as there were false prophets in Old Testament times, so there would be false teachers.

Peter first describes the destructiveness of false teachers. Denying the Lord who bought them, they will secretly introduce destructive heresies. Many will follow them, and the way of truth will be blasphemed. But they will bring swift destruction on themselves (2nd Pt.2:1-3).

Illustrating the doom of false teachers, Peter reminds his readers of what happen to the angels who sinned, the ancient world destroyed by the flood, and the fiery end of Sodom and Gomorrah. Surely God knows how to reserve the wicked for the day of punishment, and the example of Lot shows that He also knows how to deliver the godly out of temptations (2nd Pt.2:4-9).

Peter then discusses the depravity of false teachers. In arrogance they revile against authority, all the while reveling in pleasure and lusts as they circulate among the Christians they seek to influence. Like the prophet Balaam, they are motivated by the wages of unrighteousness and have forsaken the right way. Empty of true substance, they are like wells without water, clouds tossed by a tempest (2nd Pt.2:10-17).

Finally, Peter describes the deceptions of false teachers. In both their methods and promises they seek to deceive those who like them had once escaped the pollutions of the world. But the false teachers are once again enslaved by such pollutions and their last end is worse than the beginning (2nd Pt.2:18-22).

2nd Pt.3:1 This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:— Second Epistle means second to 1 Peter. Peter addresses the saints as “beloved.” As he begins to stir up their minds in his writing, he reminds them that they are dearly loved. The phrase “pure minds”(eilikrine dianoian) means to have a clear, pure, unmixed, uncontaminated, focus; a concentrated mind. It is the picture of thoughts being sifted just like wheat is sifted in order to be separated from the chaff. Thoughts are to be sifted in order to separate the true and pure, from the untrue and impure. If a person is to know and understand the return of the Lord, his mind had to be aroused, and stirred. The mind cannot be lazy or wandering about. Peter reminds them of their blessed condition by using the term “pure mind” to accomplish three purposes:

1. First, it explains that the majority, although troubled (shaken) by the situations, are still true in terms of their adherence to the apostolic faith. They still believed the gospel. Their minds had not been given over to the lusts and heresy swirling around them.
2. Second, Peter intended the phrase to encourage these believers to remain loyal to the gospel and to those who had taught it to them.
3. Third, this term is also an evidence of God’s preserving mercies. Preservation in true faith is always a testimony to the grace, power, and faithfulness of God.

2nd Pt.3:2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:— they had to be mindful, watchful, alert, focused, concentrated, and actively engaged upon two things.

1. The mind must remember the words spoken by the prophets.* They had much to say about the return of Christ to the earth.
2. The mind must remember the commandments of the Lord that have been preached and taught by the apostles.* Jesus Christ taught much about His return. The apostles in turn shared His teachings with the people.

NOTE:

The Prophets,* of course, were the messengers of divine truth in the Old Testament. Apostles* mentioned in the New Testament are the Twelve—the men called and commissioned by Jesus Christ Himself. These are the men who had the authority to interpret the Old Testament testimony concerning Jesus. The prophets and apostles were both God’s messengers communicating truth to the people. The prophets and apostles spoke with one voice. And the subject of that singular voice was the Redeemer – the Lord Jesus. Prophets foreshadowed Christian truth. The apostles interpreted Christian truth. But we must remember that it is the strategy of false teachers to cast doubt upon and belittle the prophets and apostles concerning particular points of doctrine which condemn the false teachers.

POINT:

The stress is upon the mind—a pure mind, a mind that is focused and learning and remembering what it has been taught. But before a person can remember something, he first has to study and learn the truths of God’s Word. This stresses the utter necessity for him to study the scriptures, to learn all he can about the return of Christ to the earth.

2nd Pt.3:3 Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,— Peter is giving us what we sometimes call a “heads up” ... a warning in saying, “Know this first” of all.

- |                      |                    |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| • “these last times” | 1Pt.1:20           |
| • “the last days”    | 2Pt.3:3; 2Tim.3:1  |
| • “these last days”  | Heb.1: 2           |
| • “the last time”    | 1Jh.2*:18; Jude 18 |

NOTE: John’s term for the end time: “the last time” (eschaté hora)— the Greek really means the last hour, the midnight hour when the world is to end. But note this: the end time does not mean annihilation; it does not mean that everything will cease to exist. William Barclay<sup>3</sup> describes it so well.

The point is: The coming again of Jesus Christ and the end of the world—this is the subject of this final section of the book of Second Peter. What God is after is preparation—for man to prepare himself to receive God’s Son. Man must be ready for the return of Christ or else he will be doomed.

This first passage covers a critical subject: the first thing to know—scoffers shall come. They will come with their ridiculing, following after their own lusts (passions). Now what exactly is a scoffer? A scoffer is someone consumed by disdain for something or someone. A scoffer usually projects a certain intellectual arrogance and social snobbery. Indeed, a scoffer will not listen to or heed wise counsel or anything that resembles a rebuke. Know that scoffers walk after their own lusts. They live like they want to and do their own thing. They want the possessions and pleasures of this world. They have to mock and reject the second coming of Jesus Christ. If they accepted it, they would have to change their lives. They would have to repent and turn to Christ or else live under their terrible fear of eternal judgment. They scoff for two reasons:

1. Because it has been thousands of years since Jesus Christ came to earth the first time.
2. Because the world continues on just as it has always been.

2nd Pt.3:4 And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation. “Where is the promise of His coming?” Now mind you, they’re not wanting to know where in the Bible Christ’s second coming is promised. Mockingly they are asking, “Where is the fulfillment of the promise? And here’s the support for their argument. “Since the fathers fell asleep all continues just as it was from the beginning of creation.” Who are “the fathers?” It seems most natural to understand the fathers as the Old Testament patriarchs – Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. “Fell asleep” obviously refers to their deaths.

2nd Pt.3:5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:— “For this,” refers to the idea expressed in the previous verse – that all continues just as it was from the beginning of creation (3:4). God’s creative Word is sure (3:5). God’s judicial Word is sure (3:6). God’s sustaining Word is sure (3:7). Because this is why we believe that God’s redemptive Word is sure. Knowing all of this, Scoffers are ignorant of three facts, and note scripture says that they are “willingly ignorant.” They choose to ignore, to be unreasonable, and to reject the fact that God is the Creator and Sustainer of the world.

1. Scripture declares that the world is not self-creating and self-sufficient (v5). It was not made by the laws of nature and it does not run and operate itself by the laws of nature. The heavens and earth were created by

<sup>3</sup> “In biblical thought, the last time is the end of one age and the beginning of another. It is not only a time of ending; it is a time of beginning. It is not only a time of destruction; it is a time of re-creation. It is last in the sense that things as they are pass away; but leads not to world obliteration, but world re-creation. In other words, the last hour and the last days lead not to extinction, but to consummation.” (The Letters of John and Jude. ‘The Daily Study Bible’ Philadelphia, Pa: The Westminster Press, 1958, p.71).

PITWM VERSE BY VERSE

the Word of God—His speaking the world into existence. God created the universe and the laws of nature.

The point is this: mockers willingly choose to ignore and reject God, to deny absolute intelligence and power.

2nd Pt. 3:6 Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:—

2. Scripture declares that the world has not always continued on as it presently does (v6). The earth has perished before—God spoke the Word and judged the world. His Word destroyed the world with a flood and all life was destroyed except Noah and his family and two of every creature. God did not let people go on and on in their sin forever. God judged and punished sinners. God created it to be moral, and He expects man to live righteous and godly lives while here on the earth. If they refuse, then He speaks His Word and judges the earth.

The point is this: the world was destroyed by God's Word once; it can therefore be destroyed by God's Word again.

2nd Pt. 3:7 But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

3. Scripture declares that the heavens and earth are being kept, reserved, and stored up for destruction— fire (v7). How? By God's Word! God is controlling the heavens and the earth. They have not been destroyed because God has not yet spoken the Word. But note: He is keeping, reserving, and storing up the world for destruction by fire. Why? Because of ungodly men, as stated. This is a moral universe.

It is this that men and mockers have chosen to ignore and reject: they are accountable to a loving, holy, and just God. It is to this that they refuse to study and know and submit to. Therefore, they continue on in their selfish and hoarding and unjust and immoral ways. However, the promises of the return of Christ and the renewal of creation, stabilizes God's people and spur us on in the way of holiness.

2nd Pt. 3:8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. Peter turns his attention to the saints - those precious believers to whom he is writing; those whom he affectionately addresses as beloved. He says, "But, beloved do not let this one fact escape your notice; be not ignorant of this one thing." To stabilize, to settle, to comfort them Peter reminds them of two things. Both have to do with the attributes or perfections of God.

- The first is the perfection of the eternity of God. He reminds them "that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day." This clause, taken from Psalm 90:4, does not represent a chronological calculation. But God is not limited by our perceptions of time. He exists outside of time. Why has Christ not yet returned? We must not be ignorant about: The Lord does not measure time the same as man.

The point is this: God will have the gospel preached to every part of the earth to turn more hearts to Him before He sends Christ back to earth. Our task is not to question when He is returning, but to watch and be ready in case He returns before we depart this life and go to Him. It is also explained in the next verse.

2nd Pt. 3:9 The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

- The Lord is slow in sending Christ back to earth, but long suffering.

The point is significant: God suffers long and suffers along with us, and the intensity of His feeling is absolute (meaning unlimited). The feelings of one day are so intense that it feels like a thousand years. Whereas we bear only the sufferings of our own personal experience; God bears the sufferings of all the experiences of all men. Therefore, to God the experience during just one day of an evil earth is as a thousand years to Him. However, God will not bear evil forever.

To stabilize, to settle, to comfort them Peter reminds them of a second perfection of God - His patience. Look at the second clause in v9: [God] is patient toward you, not wishing for any to perish but for all to come to repentance. The point is this: God does not want us perishing. He wants us to spend eternity with Him, not apart from Him. To “perish” is a terrible thing. It means to utterly be lost and destroyed; lose eternal life and be cut off from life forever and ever; be spiritual destitute, completely empty of all good; to suffer the judgment, condemnation, and punishment of separation from God forever and ever; Perish— to be in a state of suffering forever and ever apart from God. I’ve stressed this as much as I can. “Repent”—change*, turn, change one’s mind, turn one’s life; turning away from sin and turning to God, forsaking sin; putting sin out of one’s thoughts and behavior; resolving never to think or do a thing again.

NOTE:

*The change is turning away from lying, stealing, cheating, immorality, cursing, drunkenness, and the other so-called glaring sins of the flesh. But the change is also turning away from the silent sins of the spirit such as self-centeredness, selfishness, envy, bitterness, pride, covetousness, anger, evil thoughts, hopelessness, laziness, jealousy, and lust.

1. Repentance involves two turns:
  - a. The negative: turn away from sin.
  - b. The positive; turn toward God.
2. Repentance is more than sorrow.
  - a. a person may repent simply because he wills and acts to change.
  - b. a person may repent because he senses an agonizing sorrow within.

Repentance is both the change of mind and the actual turning of one’s life away from sin and toward God, not the sense of feeling of sorrow. It is taking action of body, soul, and spirit.

2nd Pt.3:10 But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night;— The Day of the Lord is coming. Again Peter shows them that there is something about the person, the character of God that they need to understand— He keeps His promise, longsuffering, and wants none to perish. God is working during this window of grace. He is not idle. He is calling out His elect until such time as all elect souls are secure. Peter assures us that this moment in time “will come like a thief in the night.” In other words it will arrive suddenly and unexpectedly, but, precisely according to God’s timetable. No thief tells a man ahead of time that he is going to strike his house. If a man knew, he would watch and prepare. This is the point: the Lord Jesus Christ has told us that He is coming back to earth. He has forewarned us, but He has not told us when. Why?

- Not knowing when Jesus is returning keeps us focused upon Him and His return. It keeps us looking and longing for Him; it keeps us watching, and it stirs us to live pure and holy lives.
- Not knowing when Jesus is returning serves as a warning to unbelievers. It warns them that they must repent now, today, for He could return today and catch them unprepared.

The believer must:

- not be careless: get tired of waiting up, get sleepy, be caught off guard, begin to disbelieve.
- watch, sit up, stay awake, listen, look, take notice of all noises and sights (signs).

2nd Pt.3:10b ...In the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up. In the Day of the Lord, God will demonstrate His judgment:

- through the heavens— it will pass away with a horrific noise,
- through all the elements— (the material of which they are composed), it will melt; be destroyed in the fierce heat,
- through the earth— it will be burned up, and
- through our works— also burned up.

If a person believes in God, then he knows that God can destroy the universe. How? By doing what He did when He created the world and when He destroyed the earth the first time, that is, by simply speaking the Word. Man himself can cause an atomic explosion so severe that every element of the earth would melt with fervent heat. Why then doubt God? Why is God going to destroy both heaven and earth? There is one glorious reason and verse 13 tells us: so that He can create new heavens and an earth where righteousness dwells. Note: “the earth and the works that are therein shall be burned up.”

- |               |              |
|---------------|--------------|
| • buildings   | • services   |
| • offices     | • evil works |
| • houses      | • businesses |
| • religion    | • murder     |
| • governments | • wars       |

By “works” is meant all the works of man’s hands: Everything that man has done, all of his corruptible works, shall be burned up and destroyed by the fire of God’s judgment. The whole universe will be destroyed by fire; a fiery explosion will take place and the fire will be so hot that every element will melt from the fervent heat.

2nd Pt.3:11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,— Peter puts it like this, “Since all these things are to be destroyed in this way, what sort of people ought you to be in holy conversation (conduct) and godliness.” Peter is not so much asking a question as stating a fact. You ought to be this way – holy and godly. “Holy” means that our behavior is sanctified, that is, set apart unto God; separated from the world and given over to God; given over to live pure and righteous lives. “Godliness” means that we live like God and we seek to be a godly person; we live and do all things in the reverence and awe of God; we are so conscious of God’s presence that we live like God would live if He were walking upon earth; in the end, Christlike.

2nd Pt.3:12 Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat? The word “hastening” (spoudontas) can mean two things.

1. To hurry after; to earnestly desire; to rush toward (the Day of God). Keeping
2. To rush the coming of Christ; to cause the day of God to come sooner. The believer has a part in bringing about the eternal kingdom of God. How? By living more holy and godly lives so that more people will more readily be attracted to Christ. The more they see Christ in us—His presence and power carrying us through the trials and temptations of life, the more they are going to want Christ and His power in their lives. When people see these things, the things for which they long, they will be attracted to Christ much quicker. The result will be more souls for Christ. Therefore, the way we are to speed up the day of God is to live more dynamic lives for Christ.

“The Day of God” refers to the day when God shall dissolve and destroy the heavens and earth; the day when the universe "shall be set aflame by fire and shall be dissolved and the elements shall melt with fervent heat").

The point is: our eyes upon that terrible Day of Judgment is to arouse us to live a holy and godly life. If we take our eyes off that day or fail to direct our life toward the Day of God, then we will most likely slip into ungodliness and ungodliness.

2nd Pt. 3:13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness. Why are we looking for new heavens and a new earth? Simply stated: so that the world will be perfect, and nothing but righteousness will exist therein; a world in which only righteous people will live; no more sin and evil, no more accidents, disease, suffering, murder, drunkenness, drugs, adultery, sexual perversion, war, or death. Christians may anticipate all of this with great delight. For us, the return of Christ does not mark a dreaded end as it does for those who have rejected Him. Rather it marks the beginning of that new and eternal existence promised us in the Word of God (Is. 65:17, 66:22). You see the destruction described in v10 and 12 is not the elimination of creation but its glorious renewal.

2nd Pt. 3:14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless. Since believers are looking for Christ's return, they must be diligent and prepared for His coming. The word "diligent" (spoudasate) means to be eager; to strive earnestly; to be zealous in seeking after. Why? -So that the Lord will find you prepared. There are three preparations that are necessary:

1. The believer must be found in peace. He must be at peace with both God and man; not living in rebellion with God nor be divided against his brothers and sisters.
2. The believer must be without spot. He must be clean, pure, and unsoiled; having no dirt, pollution, or contamination of sin whatsoever.
3. The believer must be found blameless. He must be free from fault and pure; above reproach and rebuke both in church and in the world.

2nd Pt. 3:15 And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;— Remember that the Lord is longsuffering (patient) giving time for people to be saved, which is a good thing. Peter draws support from Paul, saying that he taught the same thing—perhaps from Romans 2:4 where God's patience is twice called kindness and leads to repentance. But the day will come when God cannot bear sin and evil any longer.

SUMMARY:

Peter returns in this epistle to warn that the storm is coming. In fact it's already here. Peter exposes these mockers, along with the folly of their denials. He does so by reiterating his commitment to remind his readers of the truths of the scriptures as revealed through the Old Testament prophets, the Lord Jesus, and His apostles (3:1-2). Peter then describes the mockers of whom he warns his readers, both in terms of their lifestyle and their creed (3:3-4). Verses 5-7 he exposes the folly of their thinking, especially as it relates to the role of the Word of God in Old Testament history and in prophecy (2nd Pt. 3:1-7).

Peter then turns his attention to the saints in verses 8-13. While mockers deny the Scriptures, true saints base their hope and their conduct on the promises of the Word of God. In verses 8 and 9, Peter gives a divine perspective of time and presents a very different explanation for the apparent delay of the Lord's return. This he does by focusing on God's attributes: His eternity, His omnipotence, and His mercy (2nd Pt. 3:8-9).

Now he comforts the faithful that they have a safe place to stay. In verses 10-13, Peter explains why the nearness of the "Day of the Lord" is not evident to unbelievers and how the Lord's return should impact the saints who look forward to the "new heavens and a new earth" where they in turn will dwell. God always has our best interest in mind and His purposed for our new beginning. As we live holy lives in anticipation of His return, we draw others, therefore keeping our minds stirred ready and waiting and diligently looking for coming for Christ's return, we must be found in peace, without spot, and blameless of conduct. And remember His longsuffering for what it is—salvation! However, Paul was given much wisdom in these matters, referring to all his letters written to them (2nd Pt. 3:10-15).

APPLICATION:

Looking toward the future gives us hope that the Lord will return. Will we truly be ready and waiting? There are two things that characterize Christians who live in the light of the return of Jesus Christ and the renewal of creation. One is anticipation. The other is activity. In the last days all kinds of things will be happening, so beware and be not ignorant of the things around you; be mindful of God's Word. All of His promises are sure!
